

Ethnicity Estimate Part 2 17.9.2018

The calibration around which country you are from by the “Ethnicity Estimate” at any of the DNA companies shouldn’t be held as hard and fast. You may have a paper trail showing what the territory you should belong to, but the borders of Europe have never been permanent and your DNA ethnicity, which is derived from a longer time scale, may show a different result.

Over many thousands of years since the dawn of man, wars, floods, food shortages and looking for a safe new place to live have caused people to travel. National, provincial and tribal borders were relatively flexible, until the last few hundred years.

So with that in mind, it’s good to keep a little perspective on the Ethnicity part of any DNA testing company’s program and yes it will likely again change again as the science of ethnic genealogy improves further.

So just breathe and take it with a grain of sugar and enjoy the trip through the times and places our Ancestors lived. ☺
